

DECEMBER 2022

STUDENT PRICE INDEX (SPI) UPDATE

The December 2022 Central Washington University Student Price Index shows a 6.8 percent increase in the cost of living compared to November 2021, with the most significant increases being in groceries, school, and housing. The grocery prices experienced in December were notably larger than the changes experienced on the national scale. Overall, the SPI estimate is higher than the price increase for the Pacific Region which saw an increase of 5.8 percent, and the CPI (the average American), which saw an increase of 6.5 percent.

THE SPI PROJECT

This project, led jointly by the Economics Association and the Department of Economics at CWU, develops a price index of the cost of college living in Ellensburg, Washington. Based on the campus-wide survey, each month the members of the Economic Association collect prices of items typically consumed by CWU students from various stores in Ellensburg to calculate the SPI index and inflation rates. This index's strength lies in identifying the change in prices students in Ellensburg face.
